FITTS REOPENS TAYLOR DEATH PROBE

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

If you can't run the whole thing to suit yourself, throw a brick into the machinery. That seems to be the motto of some people. Take the case of the 49 year old Western Union messenger boy in Napa who was discharged. The messenger gave himself up to authorities after he had hurled a brick through the plate glass window of the company which had formerly employed him. "Just got sore at the outfit," he told authorities.

We are beginning to have a faint suspicion that some of our professional calamity howlers are getting paid for their pessimism. If they are, their ignorance on some matters is partially excusable, for we all have to make a living and maybe that is the only way they can keep the wolf from the door.

We learn from recent pessimistic experts in various lines that: Most of us are morose; most of us are ignorant; most of us are poor; most of us are lazy; most of us are ill; most of us are selfish; most of us are unattractive; most of us are irreligious. Just as if anybody cares.

Mother get out your dust rags. What notes of the Victorian days are coming back. In fact they are already here if we are any judge of appearances. Christmas proved the final undoing. Modernists are responsible with their angled furniture and those who started the idea of unpainted furniture helped things along. In case you forget what a what not looked like ask grandmother—we've got to have a little room left for news.

A group of United States officials headed by Secretary of State Stimson is on its way to London for a disarmament conference. The session is to have something to do with curtailing the building of large navies.

Let's hope they have some success in reducing the size of death dealing machinery, but as far as preventing future wars—

A casual survey of history of past wars will reveal some interesting facts to those who insist that there will be no more wars. They were all called the last one. Let's hope that we won't live long enough to see another one. But—

As long as it is necessary to have policemen, lock our doors at night and have laws, wars are bound to occur.

The world has not advanced to a stage where it can arbitrarily say "there will be no more wars," and then live up to it. Anybody trying to put that rule into effect would probably have a couple of good sized wars on his hands trying to enforce such a mandate.

Piedmont School Periled By Fire

OAKLAND, Jan. 10.—UP—Smoke poured through the Piedmont grammar school here today after fire had started from a defective furnace in the basement, but 900 students marched from the building in orderly manner. Damage was estimated at $2500.

Clogged Gas Flue Brings Death To 2

ALVA, Okla., Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—The bodies of John Brendrum, 74, and his wife, Mary 64 were found in home here late today. Both succumbed to gas asphyxiation. They were believed to have succumbed to gas fumes due to a clogged flue.

OUTER SHIP CHANNEL FINISHED

Richmond's harbor development program moved another step nearer to completion yesterday when the dredger of the United Dredging company moved from the outer to the inner harbor and started work on the present dredging project.

The company has just completed the dredging of the outer harbor channel for a distance of approximately 5000 feet to a width of 100 feet and a depth of 30 feet. The United States government and the city of Richmond each paid half of the cost of dredging the channel to a depth of 25 feet and the city of Richmond paid the entire cost for the extra two feet. The newly dredged channel extends from the outer harbor wharf to Point Potrero.

Silt pumped from the channel was used to fill in approximately 30 acres of property owned by the Richfield oil company. The fill brings it up to level and adds a vast area of land available for new industrial sites. Richfield officials yesterday denied that any immediate development of their holdings here was planned.

The project just completed provides a channel 300 feet wide from the outer harbor wharf to Point Potrero dredged to a depth of 30 feet. The center of the old channel of the inner harbor is now being dredged to a depth of 30 feet. A strip 200 feet wide starting from the Parr-Ford property line to the turning basin is being dredged to a depth of 30 feet from 25 feet. The part being improved is approximately 2000 feet long. The turning basin at the end of the channel which is 600 by 800 feet is also being dredged to a depth of 30 feet.

Start Soon
Retaining walls were built some time ago around the Parr-Gill more property and around that of the Ellis Landing and Dock company. Silt taken from the inner harbor channel is being pumped onto this property to bring it up to level and make it available for use as industrial sites.

A strip of the low cost of the retaining wall extension additional funds are available and the city council recently asked the government to go ahead with the dredging of an additional portion of the inner harbor channel.

A total of $44,000 is available for the dredging of a strip 125 feet wide adjoining the channel on the east from the turn at Point Potrero to the "Ford" channel. This will probably be started as soon as the project is completed.

FATHER, SON MEET FRIDAY

Sponsored by Richmond Protestant churches, a fathers' and sons' banquet will be held Friday night at the Memorial hall at 6:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made yesterday.

George S. Chessum, of Burlingame, chairman of the Layman's Movement of northern California, and head of the Metropolitan Boys' Workers at San Francisco, will be the speaker of the evening.

It is expected that more than 500 fathers and sons will attend the meeting, which is expected to be one of the largest ever held here.

Reynold Carlson, secretary of the Richmond Y. M. C. A. has been named chairman of the dinner committee and he is making the arrangements for the program.

C. L. Zwisler on Road to Recovery
C. L. Zwisler, of the Raymond apartments, who has been ill for the past two months is reported to be recovering rapidly. He is able to walk around at his home. He is expected to be out within a few days.

GIRL DEFIES SENATORS IN PROBE ON SUGAR TAX

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—A good looking young woman publicity agent today lectured the Senate lobby investigation committee, told Senator Walsh, Dem., of Mont., and his associates that their questions were "silly" and refused to answer some of them. Mrs. Gladys Mae Jones, who was paid nearly $28,000 a year by the U. S. Sugar association and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce for Cuba to oppose tariff increases, was the most belligerent witness the committee has encountered.

She challenged the committee's right to take letters from her personal files and kept right on talking when her questioners tried to get in a word.

Case Ended
Then after more than two hours she changed her mind and apologized, explaining, "I thought you were going to ride me pretty hard," and withdrew an advance statement she issued charging the lobby committee "apparently was formed to create political difficulties for President Hoover and to whitewash the 25 years activities in Washington of the domestic sugar interests."

TWO HANGED AT FOLSOM

FOLSOM PRISON, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—Two more men paid with their lives on the gallows here today for their part in the bloody prison riots of 1927.

Walter M. Burke, 32, Sacramento theater hand, and James Gregg, 35, Fresno murderer, both climbed the temporary gallows deep under the main prison hall with steady tread and without any apparent fear of death. Neither would accept spiritual consolation of the prison chaplain.

One week ago today Anthony Brown and Roy Stokes were executed on the same gallows for their part in the riots in which 13 persons were killed on Thanksgiving day two years ago.

Only two of the riot leaders remain living. One, Eugene Crosby, of Oakland, is scheduled to be hanged next Friday. The other, Albert Stewart, is expected to be sentenced to death shortly.

First Twins At New Hospital

The first set of twins to be born at the Hospital Richmond arrived Thursday afternoon. A six pound boy and a five pound girl were born to Mrs. Florence Playford with the aid of a caesarian operation performed by Dr. E. R. Guinan. Mother and children are reported by hospital attendants to be progressing nicely.

This is the second set of twins born to Mrs. Playford. She is the mother of two girls babies born several years ago. The father, Guy Playford, of 646 Eighteenth street, is employed by a San Francisco garage.

Novelist Sued For $24,965

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—UP—Demands for damages amounting to $24,965 were made against Charles G. Norris and Kathleen Norris novelists. Dr. Frederick A. Kolster and his wife in suits filed here today by parents of Robert Ethen, 14, and Joseph Wood, 15, who were hurt in an automobile accident.

INTEND TO WED
Notice of intention to marry was filed in Oakland yesterday by Joseph Pecarich, 22 of 801 Nevins avenue Richmond, and Ruth Brown, 21 of Oakland.

STATE COLD WAVE WILL CONTINUE

The cold wave that has held the state in its icy grip for the past week will continue, officials at the U. S. Weather Bureau in San Francisco said yesterday.

Richmond and the bay regions shivered yesterday in the icy blast that struck the state. Oakland, San Francisco and Berkeley were reported to have suffered even more than this city.

Thin ice covered ponds and pools yesterday morning and frost was evident.

Santa Rosa recorded the lowest temperatures in the bay regions—24 degrees. San Francisco recorded 23 degrees while the Oakland airport registered 27 degrees.

Mount Hamilton, Mount Diablo and Mount Tamalpais received a generous coating of snow. There was snow in the streets of Stockton and Los Gatos.

SNOW BLANKET COVERS MID-WEST
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—UP—It snowed and it snowed and it snowed until tonight the whole midwest was covered with a drift so deep they probably floated those in the fondlest dreams of a Polar explorer.

For two days and two nights the snow swirled down in sheets to blanket most of Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana and Nebraska with a blanket from two to 18 inches deep. Gales sent the snow piling in drifts many feet deep across roads, in front of doors and in other places.

The weather bureau predicted that the snow fall was almost over and that the temperatures would drop much lower generally before morning.

Trains Late
Trains were hours late into Chicago, all mail was stopped here. (Continued on Page 8)

40 Smallpox Cases On Ship

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—The steamship Golden Sun, with 40 cases of smallpox aboard is rushing to Honolulu for medical aid according to telegraphic advice received here tonight. The message, relayed from the public health offices at Honolulu, said many of the crew had not been infected. The ship's captain radioed Honolulu health authorities that he was forcing full speed for the Hawaiian port and asked that all possible medical assistance be accorded the sick men.

Radio Distance May Cost Life

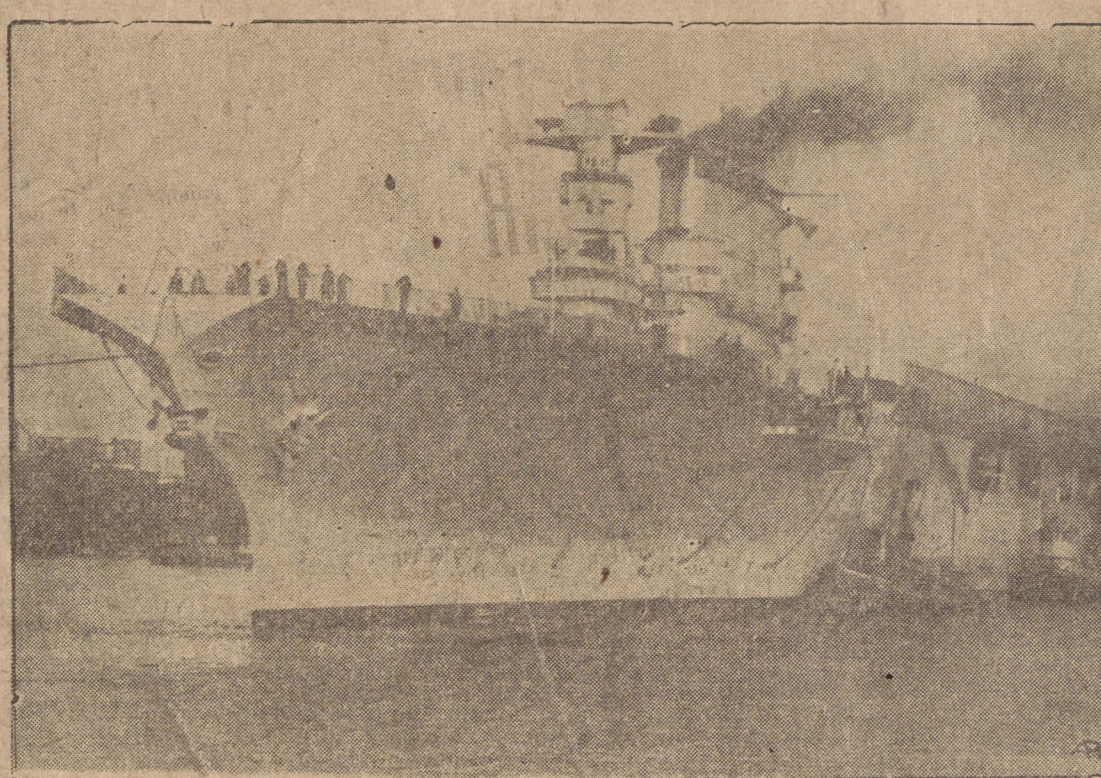

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—W. C. Jones, 30, wanted more distance receiving on his radio set. When he climbed a telephone pole today to string a long aerial and then tossed, one end of the copper wire across a high voltage line he was thrown to the ground and probably fatally injured.

Air Cadet Dies In Plane Crash

SANTA MARIA, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—When his airplane went into a spin and crashed to earth, Lawrence W. Lake, 5, Los Angeles cadet at the Hancock Foundation College of Aeronautics was killed here today. The casualty was the school's first in nine months of operation.

CARQUEZ ARRIVALS
Arrivals at the Hotel Carqueiz yesterday were: F. E. Elden and wife; Davis; C. M. Metzger of Woodland; A. Kesser, San Francisco; Bert C. Whalen, San Francisco; C. Colclough, Fresno; J. H. Kemble, Fresno; A. D. Bell, San Francisco; and Mrs. Nerman Arnett, of Waterville.

Two Of Crew Lost In Fire

FIRE originating in a punt alongside the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Saratoga, caused the death of two of the crew and burned four others. A naval court of inquiry is probing the cause of the fire which for a time periled the ship.

NEW CHARGE IN MEAD CASE

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—Andrew J. Meagher, special investigator for a group of Santa Cruz clergymen, of which Frank Wooten, former Richmond minister, is a member, made new charges today in connection with the death of Mrs. Cora Mead, ranchwoman. A grand jury investigation of District Attorney W. N. Gaard's appointment of a special prosecutor to try the clergymen's representative was demanded today by Meagher.

Efforts of the clergymen, led by Meagher, have been largely responsible for the reopening of the Mead case. Mrs. Mead was found dead in her cottage on her chicken ranch in 1928 with a bullet through her head. At the time authorities laid her death to suicide.

Intimidation Charges

Two Fined On Traffic Counts

Two drivers were fined when they appeared before Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom yesterday on charges of violating traffic laws.

Harry Gibson, of Yuba City, was fined $5 on a charge of driving his truck without a muffler. Gustaf Swanson, 1136 O'Farrell street, San Francisco, paid a $15 fine for speeding.

BIRTH RECORDED
The birth of Ramon Perres on Jan. 6, to the wife of Jesus Perres was filed with the Richmond City Health department yesterday.

11 DOCTORS IN NORTHERN LIQUOR NET

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—UP—Eleven Santa Rosa doctors and one druggist were under arrest today by secret indictment, but were released on $1000 bail, for alleged fraudulent issuance of liquor prescriptions, it was learned here tonight.

Follows Cows To Prison

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—UP—Fred Ulrich wonders whether or his cows will recognize him when he arrives at McNeil Island prison Saturday to serve a year and a day for bootlegging.

Ulrich gave up dairying a year ago and went in for quick profits in the liquor business. He advertised his cows for sale and the government purchased them for use at the Federal penitentiary. He was arrested a third time a few weeks ago for selling liquor and his sentence followed.

"I've been a bit homesome for the cows," he told United States Marshal Joe Vogelsang who will take him to McNeil Island.

Oakland Couple Wed By Alstrom

Luis Perez, 28, of 511 Jefferson street, Oakland, claimed as his bride Miss Aurella Vellasquez, 23, of 540 Union street yesterday at a ceremony performed by Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom in the local justice court. The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. S. Vellasquez, of Oakland, sister-in-law of the bride. The couple will live in Oakland. Perez is an employee of the Southern Pacific company.

Man Gives Life To Save Store

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—Wolf Minberg, proprietor of a second hand goods store saved $19 in his pocket and prevented the robbery of his shop at the cost of his life. His head battered almost beyond recognition, he was found unconscious in a pool of blood in the store. Minberg had been slugged with a revolver butt and confusion told of a struggle.

DETECTIVE TO QUIZ PAIR

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—UP—Statements obtained by the United Press from Otis Hefner and Henry Peavey, "lost witnesses" in the William Desmond Taylor murder case, were laid before District Attorney Byron Fitts and Special Investigator Ed King in detail here tonight, just before King took an overnight train for San Francisco to interview the two men personally.

King will bring Hefner to Los Angeles with him for direct questioning by Fitts, and will question Peavey at Sacramento before returning.

He will report Peavey's statements by long distance to Fitts, and the young negro, former valet to the murdered motion picture director, will be returned with Hefner if Fitts decides the situation warrants.

Series Checks
The stories told by the two witnesses to the United Press, which pointed to a motion picture personality as the actual slayer, were checked in detail with information gathered by the present district attorney's staff since the "greatest murder case" was reopened recently after a lapse of almost eight years. Portions of Hefner's story were disbelieved, but it is hoped to bring the truth from him and bridge the illogical spots. King expressed the belief that Hefner had more to tell than he already had related.

C. F. ANNETT RITES TODAY

The Christian Science burial service will be read by Mrs. Janette Haddell at ceremonies for the late Charles F. Annett of 131 Eleventh street, at the Wilson and Kratzer parlors this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Remains will be cremated at the Berkeley Crematory under the supervision of the past exalted rulers of the Richmond Elks lodge. Members of the local lodge will act as pall bearers. The pall bearers are Michael Oelschlager, Frank Otis, Edgar Dale, Jack Lee, E. E. Lane and Thomas Gray.

Canelo Trial To Resume Monday

MARTINEZ, Jan. 10.—Trial of Larry Canelo, Richmond musician on a charge of attacking a 13 year old Richmond girl will be resumed in the court of Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The first day of the trial closed this afternoon with the complaining witness on the stand facing a bitter cross examination conducted by the defense attorneys, Thomas M. Carlson and Wilbur S. Pierce.

More than 25 witnesses have been summoned by the defense and will probably be put on the stand late Monday afternoon. The jury hearing the case includes: Herbert C. Bowman, Richmond; William Frazer, San Pablo; Mrs. Nellie Stiefvater, Richmond; Sanford Jennings, Walnut Creek; Ira Ray, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Rena Adams, Folsom; Joseph Mythen, Richmond; William Straight, Concord; Mrs. Arvilla Downing, Pittsburg; Harold Duncan, Concord; Mrs. Henrietta Cayes, Rodco; Michael Standerson, Oakley.

FABLES FOR THE FAIR

By MARGUERITE MOORE MARSHALL

The Golden Rule of Popularity

IT SEEMS to me that those seven deadly sins of unpopularity which you set down in the fable about them—
"Are perfectly fine, as far as they go," writes Marcia G., "and the things that Helen Ferris says, in 'This Happened to Me' are certainly helpful—
"But isn't there some answer, besides negative prohibitions, to this very old problem of popularity?"
"I don't suppose anybody over twenty knows how important it is to a girl—
"She ought to avoid every one of your seven 'don'ts'—
"Don't imitate,
"Don't be shy,
"Don't talk too much,
"Don't believe all your big brothers say,
"Don't be afraid of being laughed at,
"Don't be sensitive,
"Don't hunt the limelight—
"But seven—or seventy—negatives of unpopularity
"Don't amount to the POSITIVE of popularity!
"Isn't there some golden rule for being liked—especially by the OTHER sex?"
You remember the old adage, "Kissing goes by favor?"

Sometimes it seems to be true—some times it seems as if being liked—
"Especially by the OTHER sex" were more a matter of luck than anything else,
The luck of being born with curly hair, or high spirits, or S. A.—
Yet, if any girl stops to analyze all her popular friends, She'll find that they're not necessarily beautiful, or witty, or super-seductive—
In fact, she'll find an extreme and extraordinary variety about them—
So much variety that she'll think they have nothing in common—
That there is no general law of being liked!
Nevertheless, we believe there is such a law—
It's simply this: "Be yourself!"
Stop and think if, consciously or unconsciously, every popular person you know
Doesn't live up to that law—
Isn't it the reason why there are so many different types of popular person?

Some are just naturally beautiful. Others have a naturally sparkling and amusing way of talking.
Still others are naturally good at sports and dancing.
Take who are none of these things but who are popular—
Interested in the world about them. May prove the most popular of all. The one individual whom we have never known to achieve general popularity—
Especially with the OTHER sex—is a person.

A man or woman pretending, self-consciously, to be what he or she is not.
Of course, that rule "be yourself" means "be your BEST self."
Make the most of all your natural advantages and qualities, whatever they may be.
Be not merely a person, but a personality, one who "gets across"—
And don't waste your time and energy worrying about the effect you create.

Girls who—as is perfectly natural—try to be popular "especially with the OTHER sex" will be interested, we think, in a letter we have received from one of our contributors.
In which she elaborates the idea we have summarized above—
"The popularity prescription."
"According to letters and articles in your column, the intelligent younger generation—
"Is finding it more and more difficult to enjoy suitable companionship of the opposite sex," he writes.
"The young men cry out in despair 'And here you, dear, seek help.'
"What is the solution?
"It's about time we came to one, for the 1930's.
"It's time to take on the appearance of a lot of talk about it, but in plain language, the reason for our 'One Prescription' that here is the reason for existence the bringing together of young people.

TELLING THE WORLD

By Neal O'Hara

OPENING OUR OWN CAMPAIGN

HAVING listened to the urgings of relatives and friends, we have decided to announce our candidacy for the first office we can get. Our platform is simple, to match the electorate. We stand for the people, by the people, of the people. We also stand for these reforms:

Lower rates for taxis, including death rates. When our ancestors tired of life, they turned on the gas. Taxi drivers are trying to improve on this system. They step on the gas and strive for the same results. To-day every cab carries two spare tires—the two that are in the air while the other two are taking the corners.
Taxi drivers concede no chance to pedestrians. They seem to think a person has no right to walk except with a limp. We also stand unequivocally for improving the rates. A straight line is the shortest distance between two points. Make the taxi men drive according to Euclid. And even when the cab is going straight, the meter may be registering crooked.

Censorship for slot and weighing machines. Economists claim you can't get anything with a penny to-day. The slot machines prove it. Gum machines have cheated millions of stenographers out of their daily rations. All the hold-ups in the subway aren't committed by years.
All you get from a slot machine is a look. They put mirrors on top so you can see yourself get mad. So far as the weighing machines are concerned, they are 100 per cent. profit and 60 per cent. accurate. We unequivocally stand for censorship of these devices. We demand that they work at least eight hours a day.

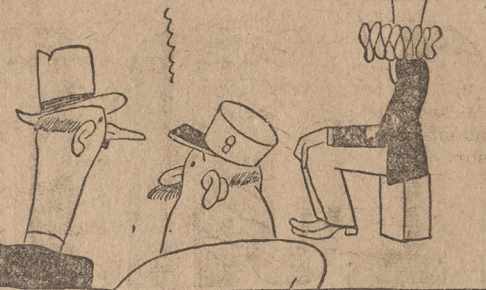

After that, the rent hogs must go. Every citizen should be able to rent a dress suit without extortion. The Supreme Court rules that a dress outfit with all the modern improvements, including detachable tie, table d'hôte stains and plenty of room at the knees, should not rent for 50 per cent. less than it's worth.
But the rent hogs are revealing that decision. They are charging 100 per cent. profit for swallow-tail coats, with the rent free, up and down the back. The Mayor's Committee on Fancy Dress reports there is only one dress suit for every 13½ male inhabitants. And they call this a civilized country!

Another tough break in the situation is that most of the leases on full-dress suits expire the week before the First Men's Ball. We therefore stand unequivocally for lower rents, trial fittings and the rights of small-sized gentlemen. Justice must be done to the dress-suit voters. Unequivocally!

We are also against the telephone service. We have been up against it for years. The coin box stations have too many nickel trimmings. Think that over before you cast your vote. A child can drop a penny in the slot and chew gum. His big sister should be able to drop a nickel in the slot and chew the rag.
The root of this evil is the telephone exchange, where you exchange wrong numbers for worse ones. We are therefore against the telephone service. Unequivocally—they cut us off!
We also promise to proscriber the Derby Hat Trust. What has this trust done for us besides derby hats? Do not be deceived, gentle voters. The derby hat barons give us the same thing year after year, only it costs more. This year we are being gypped again. They are furnishing 12-calibre airholes in the derbies when we should be getting 32's.
We promise reforms in taxi direction if it is possible to reform a derby hat. Otherwise it will be overlooked.

Hoover Choice of Rapidan Puts Mount Weather on Way Out as Summer White House—U. S. S. Olympia Faces Junk Pile

Mount Weather is on its way out as a week-end White House. The good ship U. S. S. Olympia is having difficulty getting in as a permanent Spanish War memorial.

Mount Weather was chosen by President Coolidge as an ideal site for a week-end White House "near enough to have contact with Washington and distant enough to afford the Chief Executive a breath of fresh air away from business care."

The Olympia was Dewey's flagship. Representative Cochran of Missouri has proposed a bill to bring the old cruiser to the national capital for a permanent berth where she might be visited annually by thousands of school children who come here. The navy is against the Cochran project.

President Hoover decided against the Mount Weather site. He picked his own on the Rapidan. One of Mr. Coolidge's last acts was to sign a bill transferring the Weather Bureau Observatory to the Department of Agriculture. The Agricultural Department Appropriation Bill repeals the authorization. It restores the site and buildings to the Weather Bureau.

Mount Weather is in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia, about forty-seven miles due west of Washington. It is a beautiful spot, with a trout stream, fishing on the Rapidan turned him there.

A proposal is pending to convert the buildings into a sanatorium for tubercular children in and near the District of Columbia. The Commissioners of the District have been authorized by Congress to find a site and $500,000 has been appropriated for the erection of suitable buildings and for proper equipment. If Congress decides it has no other use for Mount Weather, it is likely the hospital will go there.

There are eighty-five acres in the site and ten buildings on it are reported to be in good condition and adapted to housing purposes of the staff. It has an elevation of 1,730 feet. The establishment has not been used by the Weather Bureau since 1915.

Secretary of the Navy Adams has reported against the Cochran bill respecting the Olympia on recommendation of the Bureau of the Budget that the proposal was not in accordance with the President's financial program. The navy proposes to dispose of the famous old ship. Representative "Jack" Cochran is quite wrought up over it.

Let them try to dispose of the Olympia instead of having her here as a permanent memorial to the men and women of the Spanish-American War and they'll hear such a protest from the far corners of the country that they will desist," says the scrappy red-head from St. Louis. "The historic ship will never leave the custody of the United States. The Secretary of the Navy may as well realize that now."

"They say it would cost $25,000 to condition the Olympia and tow her to Washington, and that ten or twelve men would have to be assigned to keep her in condition for visitors. Let the Secretary of the Navy tell how much it is costing to keep her now."

"There are two Shipping Board vessels anchored down at the mouth of the Patuxent River—the Mount Vernon and the Monticello, both former transports. Not long ago I was informed it was costing $50,000 a year to keep them there. It costs money as much to keep ships at anchor just as it does when they are in commission."

The navy proposes to sell the Olympia for junk.

FOLLIES OF FASHION

The Tall, Short-Waisted Type Must Adapt New Silhouette

By Marguerite Barnes

THE tall woman who is short waisted must be careful not to adopt the normal waistline too literally in her costumes. M. Jacques Worth, the French couturier, thinks the new lines, unless carefully adapted, look worse on her than on any other type. The dress at the left shows how exaggerated the skirt length can seem with the normal waistline. At the right is shown the new taffeta prints, which flare nicely, thus adding width. The waist is lengthened by a bolero, also flaring, and the skirt is shortened by the two panels. The full flounce is shorter at the sides than the front—an effective way of de-emphasizing skirt length.

Helping the School Child

By Emilie Hoffman

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1929.

"MY DAUGHTER received the physical examination in school and I was notified that she needs medical treatment. Several friends have told me to pay no attention to the notice. What would you advise?"

This query shows one of probably many similar attitudes toward the school physical examinations, and my reply is: By all means heed the warning of the school authorities. If you are still inclined to doubt the necessity of remedial attention, at least take her to your family physician for a final diagnosis.

These examinations in the schools are valuable in that they discover correctable physical defects that are a handicap to the school progress of the child. Any intelligent parent will recognize the necessity of corrective treatment and will take steps in that direction without delay. In fact, parents who rightly guard the health of their children have them undergo regular periodic physical examinations and they keep a close check of the growth, weight and health habits of their children.

School children are instructed in health protection by the teachers, and these instructions should be augmented in the home. The mother should encourage her children to follow right health habits as they have been taught.

New Hem Form

THE Jersey frock with very narrow hem stitched to make the flare more obvious has been familiar through one or two seasons. A hem finished with a hand rolled edge is one of the newest types which makes its appearance in the resort clothes just arriving in shops. This disposition of the skirt edge is due to the circular cut, which is somewhat less effective when given a regulation hem.

Eyebrows Grow Again

By Coralie Van Passen

AFTER plucking them for years, Paris has suddenly developed an eyebrow craze. It is realized now that if woman is to hang on to her individuality the eyebrows are the best means to do it. The craze is a result of the general returning favor for curvature in dress, physical contour and coiffure. It is the latest offer on the altar of femininity, which received heavy sacrifices recently in the line of short skirts, shingled bobs and the silhouette type of figure.

Mons. Antoine, the super-barber and hairdresser, who sets most of the world's styles, declared apropos of the returning eyebrow that women began to realize they were looking too much alike, in spite of the more interesting coiffure which longer hair permits, in spite of what they can do with skirts and frocks which do not hide the knee.
In their feverish search to discover what is lacking they remembered that the craze for novelty had been a thin line of eyebrows. What remained of the natural growth with a thin line of Japanese ink. Man resorted to look at women's eyebrows. When he had seen one he had seen all.
Antoine declares eyebrows more than anything else, gave modern woman that stamp of depressing uniformity. This standardization of feminine appearance embraced both East and West when the women of the West thinned their eyebrows to the skimpy line of women of the East.

Western women overlooked the important fact that the thin eyebrow was peculiarly suited to the features of Oriental women. Possibly that is why Nature, which knows most things, gave to the women of China and Japan eyebrows which are naturally thin and vague.
Now the women of the West have realized their mistake. They are letting their eyebrows grow once more, remembering that eyebrows play an important part in revealing individuality. It is not enough that eyebrows be simply allowed to grow again. While Nature does most of the work, woman may lend a helping hand.

The faces of most of the beautiful American women, in M. Antoine's estimation, would lose much of their charm if the eyebrows were the same as has happened with women the world over when eyebrows were ruthlessly plucked.
A woman whose face is pretty in a child-like way need not despair of bringing into her face that suggestion of maturity and firmness of character which is at present lacking.

The Two-Year Old's Diet List

6 A. M., or on waking—juice of one orange.
7 to 7:30 A. M.—Three good tablespoonsful of well-cooked cereal served with two ounces of milk (very little or no sugar), one-half slice crisp, dry toast, dried bread (buttered), egg three times a week and on the other mornings a slice of partly crisped broiled bacon. Milk, one glassful.
11:30 A. M. to 12—Creamed soup, broth (four ounces) or beef juice (two ounces), half a slice crisp bread and butter, meatsteak, lamb chop or roast beef from one to three (chops), finely cut, small baked potato (two tablespoonsful of rice, cooked vegetables, from one tablespoon to one-half cupful). Simple dessert, such as custards, suet, cornstarch, rice, apples and plain cake or cookies.
3 P. M.—Milk, five or six ounces. At this age milk should be given from a cup instead of a bottle.
5:30 to 6 P. M.—Three tablespoonsful cream of wheat, farina or any light cooked cereal (crisp, ready-to-eat cereals may be substituted occasionally), dry, crisp bread and butter, milk, eight ounces, stewed fruit (not very sweet), one-quarter to one-half cupful. This may be varied by adding milk toast or cream toast instead of cereal.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

AS I pass the boardwalk stand of a certain man almost every day I notice at times that he is seated on the throne (if I may call his chair that) FAST ASLEEP.
Sometimes I honor the man with my trade, and the other day he confided in me that his landlord had doubled his rent. It is now fifty instead of twenty-five dollars.
"And I have to pay my lights too!" he whined.
Ah, me! Here is an able-bodied man asleep during the busy hours of the day, only to wake up when the landlord raises his rent.
How many people are asleep in their chairs and even asleep when they are seemingly walking around. Business was never more competitive than it is to-day.

Legion Winners Of Member Drive Announced Soon

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—The ten departments of the American Legion which stand highest in the percentage of their 1929 membership quotas as of Dec. 31, will be announced soon when all the cards and dues, postmarked that date, are received at National Headquarters here, Frank E. Samuel, assistant national adjutant, said today.

These ten departments will be entitled to a first block of tickets to attend a huge pageant, ball and athletic carnival to be given the night of the big parade at the twelfth annual convention in Boston next Oct. 7.

The department having the highest percentage of membership will receive ten tickets, the next highest nine, etc. The department, itself, will determine how the tickets are to be distributed in some manner as a reward for membership work.

The Legion Auxiliary is conducting a similar contest and awards. Following the announcement of these ten winners, future tickets will be allotted to department in proportion to their posts and units but not until the department concerned has attained its full quota.

A spirited contest will be conducted throughout January for the honor of naming the leading figures for the ball, one for the Legion and one for the Auxiliary to be known as Zeus and Hera. This first big honor in the contest will close on the last day of January.

The honor of naming these first high membership leaders will go to the department having the best showing as of Jan. 31, and the two chosen will ride in the big parade in Boston in a golden chariot. Heirs Apparent will then be chosen in a similar manner, through a contest in February, and a third next highest honors in March.

JUNGLE COLONY IDEA PLEAS PRISONERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—UP—This rumor that business is basically sound may be true, but conditions in general are not so hot in San Quentin prison in the movie factories of Hollywood and on the wind-swept, sheep-infested plains of Arizona, one would judge from a cursory examination into Professor Ernest W. Shaw's correspondence.

Professor Shaw is the meek-mannered little fellow who hit upon the idea of salting forth to the jungles, ripping off his garters, shouting the cannibalistic equivalent of "whoopie" and renouncing civilization in its entirety.

Radios, alarm clocks, technicolor zipper golfshoes, telegraph compasses that won't let you say hell, subway conductors who sass all the customers, trans-Atlantic flights, and all the rest of the fixtures and appurtenances of civilized man would be taboo.

Shaw organized his primitive club with the idea of penetrating the Belgian Congo, settling down in houses of mud-and-wattle, trading goats and chewing tobacco for native women and leading the life of an African Reilly.

Since he first announced the idea, he has simply been overwhelmed with letters. Today he told the United Press that a prisoner in San Quentin, serving a life term, has written expressing deep interest.

From Arizona, out where the handclamps are a little freer, an aged sheep herder, who says he is tired of the battle of life and who intimates that he has counted so many sheep in his life that he can't stay awake more than 20 minutes at a stretch has penned a crude note to Shaw. He'd like to get away from all the cactus and chaparral and sand and wool.

Still another message comes from Hollywood—a young woman on extra in the cinema industry. She wants to array herself in a beech cloth, lie back under a cecropia, overalypus catalpa on whatever kind of tree exists in the Belgian Congo, free from the tribulations of life, the worry over where the next inch of lipstick is coming from.

Professor Shaw revealed today that his colony probably won't go to Africa after all. The chances are he will lead his followers to Guatemala or to Santo Domingo. His negotiations with the Belgian government didn't pan out so well he said. Prince Henry De Ligne, the ambassador at Washington, failed to register glee when the subject of an Adam-and-Eve and a jungle colony was broached. Shaw says the Guatemala government has been most receptive and that he is awaiting further word from there. Meantime, Shaw's idea continues to spread and attract innumerable adherents.

Shaw's village without shoe horns will become a reality, he said, within the next six months.

NEW PHYSICIAN ENTERS FIELD SOON

Practitioners have cured ills with drugs without drugs, with "tools" and without but the only successful doctor who ever cured entirely with advice is "The Love Doctor," that delightful physician who specializes in love affairs.

"The Love Doctor" is the name of Richard Dix's latest Paramount all talking feature, coming Sunday to the Fox-California theater.

The whole thing started when the doctor returned from his studies abroad and his first patient was a young man suffering from love in a very extreme stage. The girl he loved wouldn't pay any attention to him, so Dr. Dix laid down three rules guaranteed to both cure the patient and win the young lady his heart desired. Here are the three rules: First if you fall in love, say so if you like, but never let the loved one be quite sure you mean it. Second, make yourself scarce. Be as devoted as you like but don't always be on hand. Third, try and make the loved one jealous.

The chap followed the rules, but his nurse had overheard the doctor's advice and decided to try it on the doctor, a confirmed bachelor. The young lady the patient was in love with decided that the doctor would make a nice husband and went after him. It is a stiff competition between the nurse and the young doctor until well that would be not fair telling. You will soon be able to see and hear this all talking farce from the famous stage play "The Boomerang."

Junior Colleges Of State Prove Source Of Worry

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—UP—Junior colleges throughout California are a constantly increasing source of worry to the state government, and officials are wondering where they will get revenue to carry on this branch of education.

Nearly $500,000 more than is now available will be needed for the school year 1930-31, according to Vieler Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction.

"The situation is one which apparently cannot be remedied in time to aid the junior colleges next year," said Kersey.

"We believe that a minimum of $982,000 will be needed to run our junior colleges next year. This means that a deficit of $497,000 faces us for the year unless we can get funds from some source."

"The 1929 legislature set $300 a pupil as the maximum amount to be provided from the general fund for the junior colleges."

"The federal government aids in junior college education with an appropriation based on receipts from federal oil land leases. Many of these leases have been cancelled, cutting down the appropriation. Last year the state received $249,838. Next year we shall be fortunate if we get $200,000."

Kersey advocates that the state give a minimum of $2000 yearly for each district junior college and $100 for each unit of average daily attendance. The $30 maximum for each unit now prevails.

Junior colleges have increased in attendance an average of 58 percent increase during the past seven years, the superintendent said. He does not anticipate as large an increase next year as experienced during the past two years, but states that the seven year average of 58 percent will probably occur.

MODERN YOUTH DEFENDED BY ESSAYIST

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Wealth is the criterion of success in this age, so modern college graduates start out with the idea of making a lot of money and fussing with ideals when they have more time, wrote Frederick T. Baumgarten, an undergraduate, today.

And these same youths are not cynical; it's merely an affection which the college intelligentsia have to adopt continued Baumgarten.

He set forth his views in an essay which made him the spokesman for the University of California at Los Angeles in defense of American colleges and universities. The whole thing started when I. A. R. Wylie, noted English woman novelist, wrote a magazine article branding the average graduate as an empty cynic instead of a citizen of solid worth.

Hits Wealth

Baumgarten proceeded to place the issue squarely up to the older generation.

"The ideals, the thoughts and the actions of the present generation are directly influenced by the environment and the education they have received at the hands of their elders," he wrote. "With a zeal for reform, expected to put his idealism into active practice. The world asked this from him."

"The criterion of success today is wealth. The men who guide our government, our outstanding citizens, are wealthy. It is natural for the college graduate then to set his mind first on the problem of making money. Idealism can wait until he has the leisure in which to exploit it."

"It seems to me that most men in university are too immature to have really settled upon a cynical attitude toward life. They have not yet experienced the trials and hardships that make for 'sincere cynism.'"

Scores Youth

Baumgarten's essay was selected from many submitted by students in a contest conducted entirely by student judges.

In her magazine article, Mrs. Wylie said:

"At no time in the world's history has the young inherited so much power and exerted so little influence. 'All the bank' is the one slogan of a generation that so far as the onlooker can tell, hasn't the slightest faith in anything—not even itself."

Pacific Coast Ship On Rocks Feared Doomed

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., Jan. 10.—(UP)—With turbulent seas whipped by a strong southeast wind pounding her, the freighter Edward Luckenbach, with a crew believed to total 40 men, was hard aground on Southeast Point tonight and reported in imminent danger of sinking.

Several holes were rent in her hull by the continuous pounding of the waves, the Coast Guard Destroyer Henley, which was standing by to render assistance, wireless.

The Luckenbach went aground early today during a thick fog. Coast guardsmen believed the condition of the stricken freighter would become more precarious with the increasing northeast wind.

However, a wrecking boat was summoned from Providence, and an attempt will be made to salvage the craft at high tide Saturday.

Date Changed For Legion Convention

Dates for the twelfth annual national convention of the American Legion to be held in Boston have been changed to October 6, 7, 8 and 9, according to an announcement made by James F. Barton, national adjutant, following a roll call by mail of the National Executive committee.

The National Executive committee at its meeting in Indianapolis Nov. 14, designated 22, 23 and 24, but in doing so was unaware of the fact that two of the dates involved the Jewish New Year, and it was deemed advisable to make the change when this was discovered.

FOX WEST COAST THEATERS CONDITION NOT AFFECTED BY FOX FILM CORPORATION AFFAIRS

Because of the importance that has been attached to the financial affairs of the Fox Film and Fox Theater corporation in New York, and the confusion as to their connection with the local Fox West Coast Theaters, Harold B. Franklin, president of the latter corporation, issues the statement today that the Fox West Coast Theaters are in no way involved in the widely discussed affairs of the Fox Film or Fox Theaters.

"Fox West Coast Theaters is a separate and distinct unit all its own, operated and financed within its own territory and has no connection with Fox Film or Fox Theaters other than Fox Film's investments in Fox West Coast Theaters," said Franklin.

"A short statement about Fox Film and Fox Theaters is this: That in the midst of the most prosperous business in their history and at almost the moment they were to be effected, certain plans for permanent financing (care for their recent national and international expansion) were interrupted by the market depression. In these plans Fox West Coast Theaters were never involved."

"Fox West Coast Theaters" says they have just completed the big Franklin, "including all its five best year in their history, both hundred theaters are going into gross business and net profit 1930 with the best promise for the future."

concluded the sugar phase of the lobby hearings. The committee plans to submit a report to the Senate on the sugar question, which is before that body now in the tariff proposal for increased sugar rates, probably Monday.

Mrs. Jones issued her statement before she went on the stand. It said the committee's actions mocked the bill of rights. The committee was not only guilty of playing politics, she said, but has violated the spirit of the Fourth amendment by seizing personal correspondence from her private office. She asked newspapermen not to show her statement to the committee, but when she was called Chairman Caraway had a copy in his hand.

Service Ended

"I didn't mean for you to see that," she said, piqued.

"That's all right, nobody will read it," Caraway replied.

Mrs. Jones was belligerent from the start. She said the U. S. Chamber of Commerce for Cuba, which paid her $1330 a month, terminated her services Dec. 1, apparently because they were "scared" of the lobby inquiry.

"That's the reason you got out this statement attacking us, because we caused you to lose a client?" Caraway asked.

Aided Senator

"No, sir," she said.

Mrs. Jones told of collaborating with Rep. Ruth Pratt, Repn., N. Y., in a speech on sugar.

"Wasn't that all right?" she asked.

"Oh, yes," Senator Walsh said. "Then why question me about it?"

Chairman Caraway rebuked her. "You'll get more publicity out of this than anything you ever did," he remarked.

Remains Mum

"That's fine," she said. "Let's start all over."

Caraway said the committee had spent several days more on the Cuban witnesses because some of them were not candid, whereupon Mrs. Jones advised him to question W. L. Petriken, president of the Great Western company as closely as they questioned her.

"Does he know anything we do not know?" asked Caraway.

"Lots." But she refused to talk more on that subject.

No Time For Thrills

Nightengale said he did not have much time to look for any "thrills."

"But if we did have a thrill it was the return to Strawberry yesterday and today on skis," he said.

"We knew that everything was all right then and it was the first chance I had to think about thrills."

"We spent most of our time up there chopping wood and repairing the telephone line. We only had wood that I had brought in to our cabin on a previous trip and that was our greatest worry."

"The boy wasn't frightened a bit. He had a wonderful time."

The Nightengales and the mountaineers, assisting them, Henry Mermo and Jasper Meuli, hope to reach here shortly after noon on Saturday and continue to Stockton by automobile.

U. S. Wars On "Parrot Fever"

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—UP—The federal government stepped into the fight today to prevent further spread of the deadly "parrot fever" upon receipt of reports that four more persons here had become infected by the rare disease.

State and local health officers assembled all their forces tonight in an effort to eradicate the mysterious germ which has now infected eight victims.

Names of the four new victims were withheld by authorities. All of the victims have become anemic and their bodies are riddled with high fever. Added to their discomfort is an intestinal ailment caused by the germ.

HIGH SCHOOLS, PRIVATE SCHOOLS SCORED BY FAMOUS EDUCATOR

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 10.—(UP)—A biting denunciation of high schools and private schools, ranking in importance with the now famous Carnegie report on sports, was uttered by the man regarded as the foremost authority in America on the subject.

Dr. Thomas H. Briggs, professor of Education at Teachers College, Columbia University, is the man. Delivering the annual Ingus lecture at Harvard University, Dr. Briggs declared that states attorneys in most American communities "might conceivably present against educational authorities indictments for malfeasance in office and misappropriation of public funds."

Dr. Briggs made it clear that he was speaking for himself and not Teachers College. His statements, he said, must be taken as his personal views alone.

He said that the Nation is utterly wasting millions upon millions of dollars on an ineffective system of education. The state, he declared, is defeating its own ends; is investing its money without getting dividends.

Scores System

Regarding private schools, Dr. Briggs spoke forcefully. He charged they were potential breeders of destruction to the state, and he urged state supervision of them and their teachings.

There are more than 20,000 splendidly equipped high schools in the United States, Dr. Briggs said, with 4,000,000 enrolled pupils. But while the public wants education — "almost regardless of what it is," neither the public nor educators has grasped the fundamental meaning of education, he said.

Regarding the principle of equal educational facilities for all, Dr. Briggs charged that actually children of the higher social and economic classes are favored, because they remain in school longer and in greater proportional numbers.

Scores Teachers

Dr. Briggs criticized what he termed the tendency of teachers to administer higher academic learning to all students. The few students competent to acquire such learning, he said, should be selected and encouraged; "but the wastefully continued effort to make academic scholars of all, or even the majority of students, is fair to neither class."

The educator blamed even crime on poor high schools and private schools. To remedy the secondary school system, he said, would be to "strike at the very heart of crime." Most crime would disappear, he argued, were there high schools "adequate to meet the needs of America today and tomorrow."

Regarding his demand that private schools be made subject to state supervision, Dr. Briggs said: Hits Private Schools

"No institution that influences or declares its intention of influencing the youth who will soon be citizens should be permitted by the state to be wholly independent."

Such schools, he said, give their students a sense of superiority over the masses.

Private school students have lost or have never acquired a faith in democracy and a genuine understanding or sympathy for the American Flag For Georgia Schools, Legion Project

ROME, Ga., Jan. 10.—An American flag will float over every school house in Georgia during the year as the result of action taken by the state executive committee of the American Legion.

The Georgia Legion program of seeing that the schools have flags is a part of its Americanism activity. Gordon Singleton is chairman of the committee in charge.

"Boys and girls who go to school under the Stars and Stripes will learn to love Old Glory. The best way to promote Americanism in this land of ours is to arouse a love for the flag," the resolution adopted by the state executive committee sets forth.

Deaths Caused By Poison Rum Show Increase

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—(UP)—Liquor deaths in California have grown from 37 in 1920—the year following prohibition — to more than 200 in 1929.

This statement was made without comment here today by L. E. Ross, chief of the state bureau of vital statistics. Deaths from alcoholism are gaining at the rate of nine per year, he disclosed. If this rate is maintained for 1929, a total of 205 deaths will be recorded.

Cirrhosis of the liver—a disease commonly attributable to over-use of intoxicating beverages—has also claimed lives at an increasing rate. From 236 deaths in 1920, cirrhosis fatalities have grown to 556 in 1928. If the increase of 40 per year is maintained this year, a total of 596 fatalities may be expected, according to Ross.

A 10-year table, showing the rapid growth of deaths from alcoholism, since 1919 when prohibition went into effect, was prepared by Ross.

Richmond is a good place in which to live

THE city of Richmond offers present and prospective residents all the home advantages offered by any other home city around the bay. Richmond has climate, accessibility, view tracts, good shops and places of amusement, schools second to none, one of the finest hospitals in California, library, hotels, restaurants, and a well managed municipal government. Is there anything else? Yes—Richmond enjoys an industrial prosperity possessed by very few cities of 31,000 population. It has an enormous year-round pay roll, the money from which comes from not one industry but from many. In other words,

Richmond is a diversified city, whose prosperity is not bound up in any one line of production. It therefore offers the worker the certainty of steady employment. No worker employed in Richmond, or intending to be so employed, should look elsewhere for a place of residence. There are already many desirable home districts, and with the great industrial strides which Richmond will take in 1930

it is certain that a large number of new and modern homes will be built and placed on the market. Richmond invites investigation as to its desirability as a home community, and challenges any other California city to offer more advantages. The Chamber of Commerce strongly urges Richmond workers to live in Richmond and to patronize local business men.

SPORTS

YOUTHS LEAD L. A. OPEN PLAY

met his way into first place with a brilliant score of 70, one under par, while Charlie Seaver, 18 year old amateur from Los Angeles, turned in a 72 to share second honors with Al Espinosa, veteran Chicago professional.

Rogers' playing over the boggy links was as steady as if he was enjoying perfect weather in place of rain and overcast skies.

Two Birdies

The young Denver pro clicked off two birdies, the sixth and seventh holes and on the eighteenth green missed par only because he was over confident on a short putt and took five for the par four hole.

He went out in par 35 for the first nine and took the return sweep in 36 strokes, marred by his miscue on the final putt.

Young Seaver, recently home from Hun preparatory school in the east, was almost as consistent. He made 35 out and 36 in.

Three prominent players, Fay Coleman, Los Angeles amateur, Bobby Cruikshank, New York professional, and Tommy Armour, Detroit pro were in the 74 class.

Willie Hunter, professional from Montebello, an oil community, started with a splendid 34 for the first nine but took a 41 coming in and totalled 75. Al Espinosa, Chicago professional, had the same score.

Harold Long, Denver professional, George Von Elm, Detroit amateur, Otis Dura, Los Angeles and Johnny Farrell, National Open champion in 1928, were the leading players who scored 75.

Kirkwood 77

Johnny Kirkwood, trick shot artist, Wild Bill Mehlhorn, New York, and Johnny Golden, Paterson, N. J., were listed at 77. Kirkwood and Golden made bad finishes after fair starts, while Mehlhorn took a poor 40 for his first nine which he played in the rain.

The favorites of the tournament found difficulty in the opening round and were forced to give way to the dark horses.

Walter Hagen, British Open champion, who with McDonald Smith, Great Neck, N. Y., was favored in the Calcutta pool behind Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., was in a decided slump. The Great Hage went out in 41 and came back in 40 for a poor total of 81 strokes.

MacDonald Smith, winner of the tournament in 1928 and 1929, fell into the 77 class with a 39-38.

Leo Diegel, professional at fashionable Agua Caliente and national pro champion, was 73 as was Horton Smith and Denny Schute of Columbus.

Lewis Fonseca Fighting Fever

SAN ANSELMO, Jan. 10.—UP—Lewis Fonseca, leading hitter of the American league in 1929, was recovering at his home here tonight from a serious case of scarlet fever.

The star first baseman of Cleveland's Indians has been seriously ill for the past week, at one time having a fever of 104, his wife said. She said he passed the crisis several days ago and hopes to regain his strength in time to report to the Indians for spring training in March.

Mary K. Browne Reinstated As Golf Amateur

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—UP—The application of Mary K. Browne of Cleveland, former women's national tennis champion and runner-up for the Women's National Golf championship in 1924, for reinstatement to amateur status was approved today by the executive committee of the United States Golf association.

Miss Browne was disqualified from amateur golf competition in 1927, the U. S. G. A. ruling that she forfeited her amateur status in golf by playing professional tennis. She had previously withdrawn from amateur tennis to make a professional tour with Suzanne Lenglen of France, under management of C. C. Pyle.

She immediately applied for reinstatement to the U. S. G. A. and was placed on a three-year probationary period, during which she withdrew from competition. During this period Miss Browne has been employed as a special correspondent for the United Press, covering women's sports.

The reinstatement is effective immediately. Miss Browne is sailing tonight for Europe and on her return plans to re-enter active competition in women's golf.

Prescott S. Bush, secretary of the U. S. G. A., also announced the appointment of Robert Tyro Jones of Atlanta as captain of the 1930 United States Walker Cup golf team, and the amateur reinstatement of Phillip K. Carly of Los Angeles. Jones is given full authority in the appointment of the team and said he hoped to announce the personnel next week.

The executive committee, meeting in secret session, set dates for the National Amateur Golf tournament and approved the qualifying date for the National Open tournament. The National Amateur will be held at Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, Sept. 22-27. Qualifying rounds for the open tourney will be held at all qualifying centers.

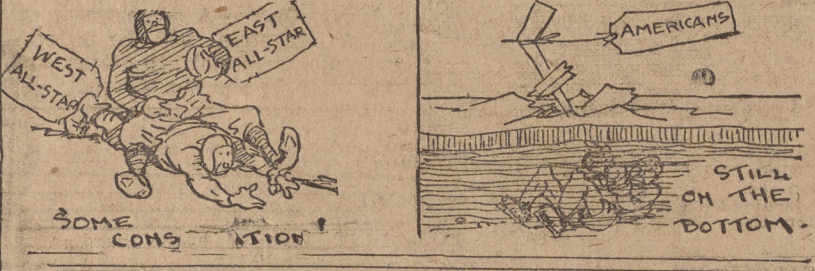

California Plans Will Be Made By Group Here Monday

Plans for local participation in the annual Y. M. C. A. Californiad to be held this spring will be made at a meeting of the Richmond Californiad committee Monday evening at the Richmond Y. M. C. A. building. The members of the local committee are: George Baldwin, Allan Moore and Bill Powell.

The events in which Richmond will take part will be chosen at that time, and chairmen for the local preliminaries will be appointed. These chairmen will be selected from the older members of the organization.

HIGH CAGERS LOSE TO LODI

RICHMOND'S invasion of Lodi last night resulted in two defeats for the local high school cagers. The B's lost the first game by a score of 9 to 8 in one of the fastest games seen this year. The contest was anybody's game until the whistle blew.

In spite of Viano's goal shooting, the varsity cagers bowed to the Lodi team by a 37 to 24 score. Viano made 11 points for Richmond.

The local varsity lineup included Viano and Marcus forwards; Hofer, center; Degnan and Dalton, guards.

TROJAN CAGERS DEFEAT BEARS

OAKLAND, Jan. 10.—UP—University of Southern California basketball team defeated California here tonight 30 to 28, in the first game of the 1930 Pacific Coast conference season.

Gardner and Lehnars of the Trojans and Tripps of the Bears were high point men of the game. Gardner scored 14 points, Lehnars 10 and Tripp 14.

The south led 14 to 12 at half time. California held the lead only once during the game. Early in the second half the Bears led 24 to 17. Lehnars and Gardner however quickly overcame this advantage, shooting baskets from every angle of the floor.

1ST CHRISTIANS, SAN PABLO CHURCH CAGE LOOP VICTORS

The First Christians succeeded in maintaining their lead in the Y. M. C. A. Church basketball league against the spirited attack of the First Baptists last night by defeating them 28 to 18. The San Pablo Baptists swamped the Chinese boys from the Chungmei home of Berkeley by a score of 38 to 16.

The First Christians started off in great style, but began to weaken under the fierce attack of the First Baptists in the last half, with the result that the score stood 20 to 17 in favor of the Christians at the beginning of the fourth period. However, the Christians rallied in the last quarter, and continually bombarded the Baptist goal during the final minutes of the game.

The San Pablo Baptists' contest with the Chungmei home was scheduled because the St. Edmund boys forfeited their game with the San Pablans. The Chinese boys were completely bewildered in the first half, but came back in full strength during the last two quarters. However, they did not show the speed which they displayed in their last contest with the San Pablo Baptists in which the Berkeleyans only lost by a very small margin.

The First Presbyterians will clash with the league leading Christians Tuesday night at 7:15 o'clock, and the Grace Lutherans will meet the St. Edmund boys at 8:15.

First Game

First Christians 28—Santaella 12, Brown, forwards; Johnson 4, center; H. Sprague 2, Abbott 6, guards; substitutes—Moore 4, center; Livermore 2, Sprague, guards.

First Baptists 18—A. Linstedt, S. Baskett 2, forwards; Mello 6, center; Lee 2, G. Linstedt 1, guards.

Second Game

San Pablo Baptists 38—Cervenka 3, Moltoza 17, forwards; Vierka 12, center; D. De Courten 6, Nevis, guards; Dorney, forward; Van Dussen, guard.

Chungmei Home 16—Chin 1, Wong 5, forwards; Chew 7, center; Seid, Fong 3, guards; substitutes—Wong, Tong, forwards.

Boy Athletics Get Lion Share Of High Budget

Boys' athletics will receive by far the largest portion of the budget of the Students' association of Richmond Union High school this term. Boys' athletics will receive 60 percent of the total funds of the organization. Girls athletics will receive 5 percent. Social funds will require 15 percent of the funds, while 20 percent will be reserved for miscellaneous expenses. This budget was drawn up by the officers of the Students' association, but has yet to be approved by the members of the organization.

The large sum voted out for boys' athletics is due to the entrance of Richmond Union high school into the Alameda County Athletic league. New basketball uniforms have been purchased, and additional out of town trips will add to the expense of athletics at the local high school.

Soccer Club To Meet Oakland Club Sunday

The Richmond Soccer club will clash with the speedy Turnovers of Oakland tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock at Nichol park.

The Richmondites will have a tough struggle when they tangle with the Oaklanders, but they are confident on the score of past victories over this club that they will not be defeated by the Turnovers on their march toward the Baystar Junior Soccer league cup. The local boys are well up in the ranks of the league, and are expected to be present when the finals are played.

The local soccer club met last night at Roosevelt Junior high school to discuss prospects for tomorrow's game.

BASQUE WINS IN N. Y. OVER VON PORAT

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—Paolino Uzcudun, a real fighting man, came back to the wars tonight.

The Basque soundly and easily defeated Otto Von Porat in a ten round bout before 18,000 spectators here. The Norwegian, who had been a strong favorite was completely outclassed after the first round. Von Porat opened up fast and it looked for a few minutes as though Von Porat's right hand was going to flatten Paolino for the first time in that merry gentleman's career.

Paolino was bloody of face and shaking of limb at the end of the first round, but his fighting heart was as stout as ever.

Starting in with the second round the Basque carried the fight to Otto.

The Norwegian slowed down in the third round and Paolino began to score freely with a left hook to Otto's protruding jaw. The Spaniard kept boring in after him and after the sixth round Otto never really looked dangerous.

Murdock Fights Stetson To Draw

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—UP—A draw decision was given here tonight after Eddie Murdock, the hard hitting Oklahoma lightweight and Frankie Stetson, local boxer, had finished their ten round bout. A large number of fans showed disapproval at the verdict, cheering Murdock as he left the ring.

Oregon Football Coach, Students Reach Agreement

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 10.—(U.P.)—Capt. John J. McEwan today reached an agreement with the Associated Students of the University of Oregon whereby he will relinquish his contract as head football coach for $6,250. The contract was to have run until the end of 1930 at an annual salary of $8,500.

McEwan agreed to remain here until his successor is chosen. He did not announce his plans for the future beyond a statement he gave out in New York recently that he might start a school of line coaching in the east.

Dr. Clarence W. Spears of University of Minnesota still was believed to be the most likely candidate for head coach at Oregon.

Fields Defeats Owens In Second

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—UP—Jackie Fields world's welterweight champion defeated Jimmy Owens, of Oklahoma tonight by a technical knockout in the second round of their scheduled ten-round fight at the Stadium.

Fields had Owens groggy at the end of the first round and fight will be held next Friday night. Referee Dave Barry ended the fight midway in the second round.

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickle) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and guarantees the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.

You will also find "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or perspiring feet.

"Corn Fly" for corns, 35c. "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25c, and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50c (all three—$1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by Hi-Gene Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.

School nurse says
all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically, and can't disturb the normal function of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

"GENERAL CRACK"

BY GEORGE PREEDY

Copyright 1928 by Dodd Mead & Co., Inc.

The Warner Bros. & Vitaphone production starring John Barrymore, is based on this novel.

offer you some entertainment, my dear Count—seeing the door open I looked in—

"Nothing entertains me," replied Hensdorff truthfully. "In here on business, which I dare say you know all about."

"Colonel Pons told me," smiled the Swede.

Hensdorff continued to peer down into the deserted chapel.

"I suppose you think General Crack a great man?" he asked.

"You also think him a great man, or you would not be here."

"Not at all," replied Hensdorff dryly. "My master thinks him a successful man, and therefore deigns to notice him; as for me, I am a mere messenger."

"Well, take care it is the imperial service," he said. "If your man falls, he'll be no better than an adventurer himself. Come, this is a dusty, melancholic place; we may employ the time till supper more profitably. There are eighty horses in the stables, Germans, Ukrainians and English—the gardens have been designed by Dürer, though we have had them brought up to date—the house, like Molk, is by Prandauer."

Hensdorff interrupted: "I understand that you have been sent to distract and dazzle me, Captain Banning, but pray spare your pains. I am here with an ill will, and not to be coaxed into a good humor."

"You always understood," said Captain Banning, "that your master"

I am master listed each other—so the Emperor, as you call him, offers his sister to General Crack, he must be in great need of his services."

Admitted," snarled Hensdorff, "and, once may well suspect, will try not to pay for them. I finished the Swede. But I can tell you this," he instantly added, "General Crack is not the man to stir without full payment in advance."

"This Château is evidence of as much," sneered Hensdorff.

They left the box in the chapel and Captain Banning took the Count to see the theatre.

Hensdorff, bored, yawned in his stall while Banning, disgusted with the blue satin curtains, pulling it back from the empty stage set with a scene by Dürer.

"Well," said Hensdorff, "if your master is hoping to make a party for himself, by joining the Lithuanians and marrying the Adair-Dessau girl, he's deceived, for matters there are settled with the Emperor."

After having uttered this round lie, Hensdorff yawned again; he felt a sudden sense of futility.

"We might go into the air," he suggested, "it's heavy here. I'm sorry to keep your master shut up, as I suppose he must be shut up for fear of meeting me."

"No, he is in bed," replied Captain Banning, leading the way out of the theatre. "He twisted his foot getting out of his coach, and yesterday he was bed twice—on these occasions he lives on barley broth and elder and gets very low."

"I dare say you would now retail our supper," he added, "and then you may retire to bed, to shorten our period of waiting. Lieutenant Ferdinand Gabor will be of our company; he always speaks of you with kindness and is well affected to your Emperor."

Colonel Pons welcomed them at the supper table.

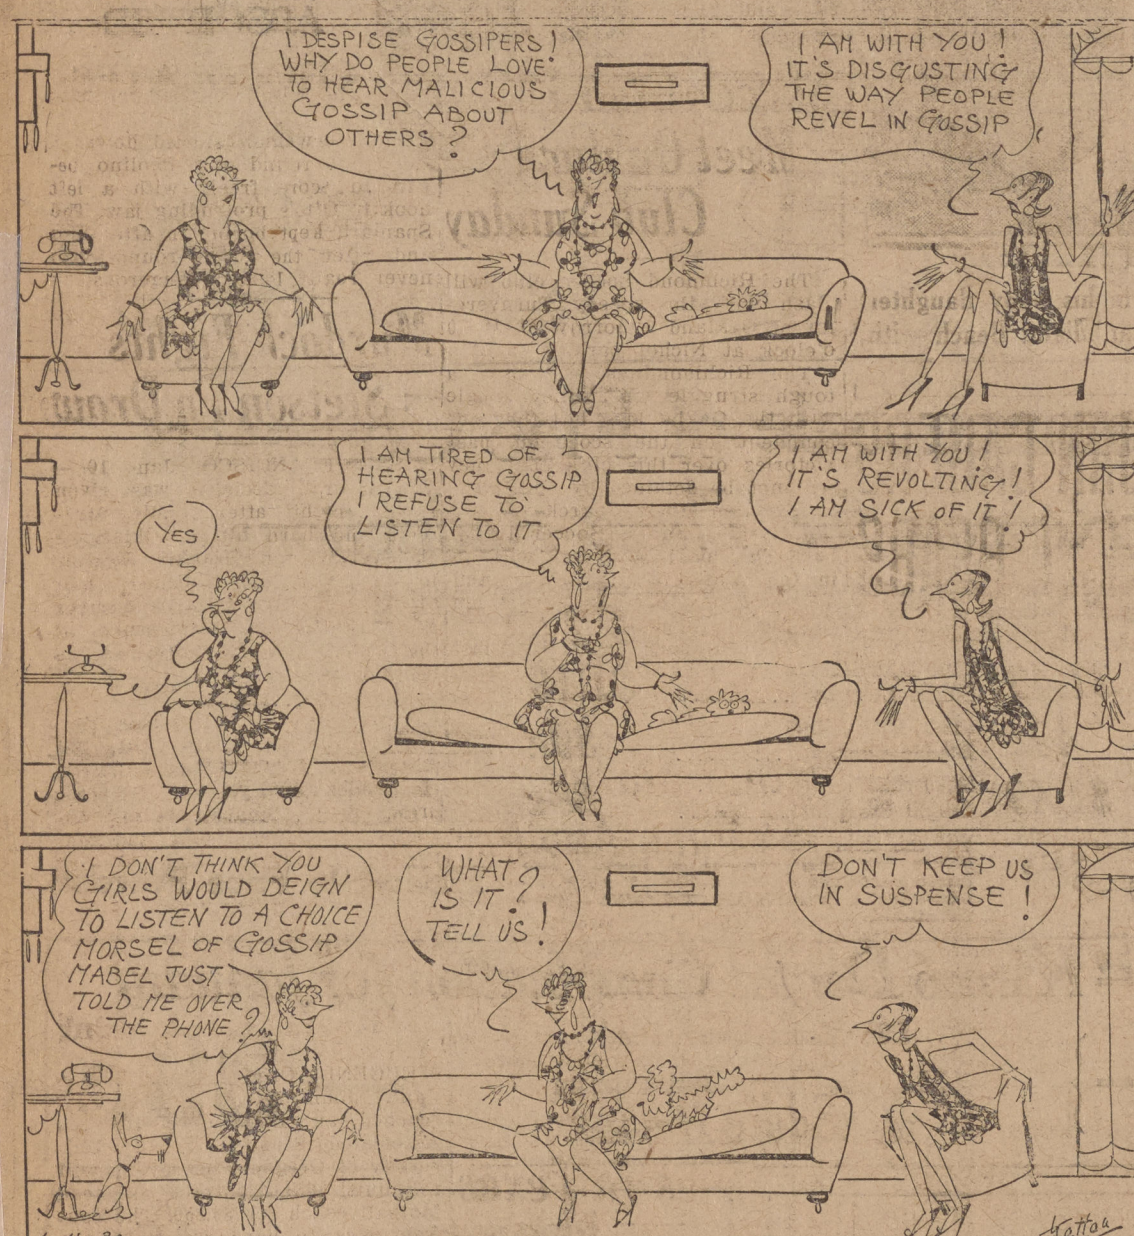

He was sorry that he had not yet been able to see General Crack, he declared, but promised an answer by the morning.

Ferdinand Gabor, seated on the left of the imperial messenger, was a thin, sweetly handsome man, faultlessly dressed, but he had a look of ruin; his eyes were, in an odd way, ashy in hue; his spirits seemed spent.

the slaying.

A letter signed "Edward Sands, Taylor's former butler" was received today. It asserted that Sands has been paid money to disappear from Los Angeles immediately after the murder, so that suspicion would point to him and insure the safety of other persons involved. The handwriting, compared with known specimens of Sands' excellent penmanship, indicated the letter to be a fraud.

"We have received a total of over 1800 letters from alleged witnesses in the Taylor case," King said. "Most of them have been valueless."

"We did, however, immediately after the murder receive letters from Sands at Tallahassee, Fla., Pittsburgh and Portland, Ore., which we were convinced were genuine. Sands attempted to establish his innocence in these communications."

Warrants Out
Warrants for grand theft and for desertion from the army are standing against Sands. The theft charges were preferred by Taylor, who alleged his former employer looted his home in his absence a few months before the murder.

Hefner's statement that he went with Sands to deliver a package of narcotics to the Taylor residence at the time Taylor's body was discovered by the pair was checked with the known fact that a package was left for Taylor on the day of the murder of a local athletic club, and subsequently turned over to someone who represented himself to be Taylor.

The director himself was greatly disturbed when he found the package had gotten into the wrong hands. He did not reveal its contents and that night he was killed.

Hefner Promises Aid
Another point checked was the confidential and hitherto unprinted statement made by Hefner to the United Press that he could locate Sands through an underworld character in Fresno whom he named. Sands himself was known to have been in Fresno after the theft charges were preferred against him, for he mailed to Taylor a number of pawn tickets covering some of the stolen articles from that city.

"The man who can locate Sands" has left Fresno and was traced through two other California cities by the United Press. Possibility exists that he is Sands himself.

Peavey's story interested King in particular. He told the United Press that he had overheard a quarrel between a screen actress and Taylor at about 7 p. m. the night of the killing, which in King's opinion took place about 7:30 p. m. Peavey further asserted that he had opened the door and visually identified the actress, although he previously recognized her voice.

"Several Drinks"
"Peavey had told us that he served several drinks to Taylor and this actress before he left for the night, at about 7 o'clock," King said, "and that they were seated together amicably discussing a book when he left."

"I made a trip to Sacramento to re-check this story of Peavey's some time ago, but he had hidden out at that time and I failed to locate him."

Fitts expressed great interest in questioning the two "lost" witnesses.

Student Council At High School Holds Meeting

The Student council of Richmond Union high school met yesterday for the first time to discuss student affairs. Bernard Follett was elected by the council members as temporary chairman. David Gray of the high school faculty presided during the first part of the meeting, and Follett then took over the duties of chairman.

It was decided that officers of the Student association be allowed to attend council meetings, but not have a vote. Woodrow Snodgrass was chosen to head the committee appointed to revise the Student Body constitution to suit the new form of student government.

The 35 members of the Student council were elected Wednesday by the members of the Student Body. One member was elected in each advisory class. The students will instruct their representative on the council as to their wishes. A motion will then be drawn up in council meeting.

It was decided that officers of the Student association be allowed to attend council meetings, but not have a vote. Woodrow Snodgrass was chosen to head the committee appointed to revise the Student Body constitution to suit the new form of student government at the local high school. Formerly, motions were proposed and voted upon at the same student meeting. It is believed by Principal B. X. Tucker and Student Body officers that this new system will speed up action and enable them to gain a truer idea of the opinion of the students. Much debate between a small group of eminent students will be eliminated, and pupils not accustomed to speaking in public will be able to express their opinions more openly in the small advisory group meetings preceding the council meeting.

Members elected to the Student council are: Nicholas Beggs, Walter Axelsson, Fred Oshima, Bernard Follett, Edna Ridley, 12-2; Walter Thomas Woodrow Snodgrass, Merle Bassett, Bruno Rovada, 12-1; Carl Drexel, Bob Miller, Robert Reid, Jack Stoddard, 11-2; Milton Bellway, Raymond Fahrenholtz, George Miller, Albert Simms, George Toner, 11-1; Clyde Barnard, Walter Bradbury, Donald Follett, George Herbert, Ruth Judge, Wade McCain, Anita Robinson, 10-2; Jack Bartlett, Ward Thirer, Jane Bellegarde, Raymond Carr, Raymond Fassanau, Rosalind Hillyer, Bernice Newford, Fred Sueza, 10-1.

Legion Respects Veteran's Wishes

LOGANSPOUT, Ind.,—Twenty-five members of Cass County post No. 60, the American Legion of Logansport, Ind., carried out the dying wish of Legionnaire Clarence Jester, when they stood beside his grave with bared heads. Jester fell victim of disability incurred in service and his last wish was that Cass county Legionnaires would see that he was buried in a Soldier's Circle, a Logansport project which he helped to obtain. Although Jester died in Cincinnati, O., the Logansport Legionnaires provided a guard of honor, saw that the body was returned, and gave him the burial he desired.

cause drifts on landing fields were so deep planes could not maneuver, and city traffic moved slowly while snowplows bucked the drifts.

Variable armies of down-and-outers were hired by railroads, street car companies and city governments to shovel away the accumulation of snow which turned into an ankle deep mess of icy slush on sidewalks. More than eight inches of snow fell here, 18 inches at Galesburg, Ill., and 15 inches at Kansas City, Mo. Temperatures were reasonably moderate except in the Rocky mountain region and northern states. It was 10 degrees below zero at Havre, Mont., and eight below at Helena.

Livestock Killed
Loss of livestock, caught in the drifts and then frozen to death was large throughout the west. The unusually heavy precipitation sent rivers gushing over their banks in yellow floods in southern Indiana, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Hundreds of acres of land were flooded in Indiana and highways were closed. Lower temperatures brought the prediction that further flood damage was not likely.

CENTRAL OREGON HIT BY COLD

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—UP—A biting wind added to the rigors of the cold wave over the Pacific Northwest tonight.

Central Oregon was gripped by the lowest temperatures of the winter season. At Madras, in Jefferson county, the mercury dropped to 10 below zero. The Dalles reported 6 below and Prineville 2 below.

Snow drifted to a depth of 20 feet at Crater Lake lodge, according to reports. State highways out of Klamath Falls to Lakeview and to Alturas, Cal., are blocked by snow.

NEW CHARGES HURLED IN SOUTH

at Watsonville, that every peace officer in Santa Cruz county who had tried to dig into the rum and narcotic rings or the Mead case had immediately met with either charges or intimidation.

Meagher filed with Harry Emigh, foreman of the grand jury, a transcript of evidence of his trial to show that Gardner had not made public his real purpose in naming Philip Beggs as special prosecutor.

False Arrest Charged

Beggs has been attorney for a bootlegger suspect, who after being acquitted of charges brought by Meagher, accused the clergyman's representative of bringing about his false arrest.

Meagher declared that Gardner said he knew nothing about the case when he named Beggs.

Meagher offered to prove that Gardner had previously interviewed seven witnesses.

The clergyman's investigator today pointed to four additional incidents in which officers making raids or investigating the Mead case had become targets for action.

Requests were made this week to deputy sheriff R. A. Christensen to turn in his badge.

Meagher Investigated
Investigation of Meagher himself by the secretary of the license division of the state prison board.

Arrest of Meagher and his assistants on charges of false arrest.

A conference with a county officer in which Meagher was told by the officer, "Santa Cruz is too small for both of us, and we are going to shake dice to decide it."

These incidents, Meagher pointed out, occurred immediately after his activities became public.

The Columbia river is frozen over between Umatilla and Arlington, reports said.

Ice skating weather prevailed in Portland with more snow predicted late Saturday. Seattle had a low of 23 degrees, Chehalis 10, Tacoma 26, Roseburg 24, Medford 14, Klamath Falls 9 and Bend 8.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN REGION HARD HIT

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 10.—UP—The Rocky mountain region was swept by the worst cold wave of the winter tonight, with no relief promised by the weather bureau for the next 24 hours.

Sub-zero temperatures prevailed in Montana, Wyoming, and the mining sections of Colorado. It was eight below at Leadville, Colo., and 20 below at Havre.

The storm delayed passenger planes out of Denver, but air mail schedules were maintained without serious delay.

Thieves Can't Be Trusted

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Distrust of his fellow man burned strongly tonight in the breast of P. M. Clels, Clels was waylaid by two men who refused to accept the stick pin he carried. He followed suggestions and pawned the bauble. When he returned with the cash the men were gone.

Portugal Cabinet Ministers Resign

LISBON, Portugal, Jan. 10.—UP—Finance Minister Antonio De Oliveira Salazar and Minister of Justice Leite Maria Lopez Da Fonseca resigned tonight after a disagreement with Premier Arthur Vivas Ferraz.

The premier informed Pres. Antonio Oscar Fragoso Carmona he did not believe the incident would cause a complete cabinet crisis.

Protect Your Furniture

A $1.25 to $10 Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

Misguided Youth Scored By Judge

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—UP—"When you get out, just charge this to the foolishness of misguided youth," Presiding Circuit

Judge Stevenson said to Gordon Turner, 24, Dallas, Texas, in sentencing him to nine months in the county jail for attempted extortion.

Turner was indicted jointly last week with Alice Boyd, 20, who has not yet pleaded. The girl shall's office here Dec. 4 and asked for a physical examination.

Turner then entered the office and reportedly told the physician to "come through or I'll blow your brains out."

Dr. Marshall stalled Turner and notified police, who arrested the pair shortly.
